FANNY SAYS:

Miss Wilma Campbell, Expert on Foods, to Conduct Classes

SATISFACTION and approval has been expressed by several of the women's organizations over the announcement of The Register Free Cooking School. The school will open at the Vost Spurgeon theater next Tuesday, February 14 and will continue for four days through Friday.

The school will be presided over by Miss Wilma Campbell, a well known food and cookery lecturer who has conducted similar schools for several years.

Many inquiries are being received by The Register about the school and a large attendance is being planned for. The merchants of the city are co-operating and are offering many valuable prizes of which are to be awarded and the grand climax will be the distribution of the grand

SLAYER MAKES PLEA FOR LIFE THROUGH STATE

Prosecution Alienist Reads Hickman Statement on Crime Conditions

By DAN CAMPBELL United Press Staff Correspondent

COURTROOM, LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7.—William Edward Hickman made a plea for his life to the jury today through the medium of a weird and heretofore unrevealed document.

The statement was read from the witness stand by Dr. Thomas Orkison, state alienist, who unwittingly became an instrument for the defense, through the move.

The psychiatrist admitted that the slayer of Marion Parker had given him the statement in the county jail and Defense Attorney Richard Cantillon asked him to read it.

Hickman began by asking the following: "Do the American people recognize crime?" "Have prisons helped to stop crime?" "Is one life worth the sacrifice that crime may be called to the attention of the people?" "Do the American people think they are safely protected from crime?"

"Will People Listen?" "Will the American people listen to me?" "Will this jury listen to me?" "Crime is threatening society, government welfare and the very destiny of the American people."

EXPANSION OF CITY LIMITS TAKEN UP BY S. A. COUNCIL

Annexation of Costa Mesa And Growth Northward Possibility

EXPANSION of the city limits of Santa Ana north and south was discussed at an informal conference of the city council yesterday afternoon, when it was revealed that plans are under consideration for consolidation with Costa Mesa on the south and for annexation of territory between Main street and the Santa Ana river north to Chapman street.

The latter program also includes annexation of land east of Main street lying between the present limits and the south limits of Orange. The east line of the latter territory is Santiago street.

According to reports made to the council by George Raymer, secretary of the chamber of commerce, a large group of property owners in the Costa Mesa district are eager to cast their lot with Santa Ana at the earliest possible moment.

Several Problems In discussions by council members, it was pointed out that in the Costa Mesa district several problems are to be solved before final consideration could be given. The city solons indicated themselves in favor of the program if there were not legal obstacles in the way. Among the problems is that of the operation of mutual water companies in the district and the legal point involved there is whether, by annexation, Santa Ana would become liable for supplying irrigation water in event that the mutual companies should disorganize.

It is anticipated that the council will be in position within a week or 10 days to definitely answer the query as to whether the city will accept the territory in the event that residents of that community should vote favorably on the project.

Prisoner Ends Rampage, Declares Truce

GLOBE, Ariz., Feb. 7.—After a two-weeks rampage, during which he tried to saw his way from the county jail, attempted to commit suicide by flooding the building, burned his bedding and went on a hunger strike, Alfonso Donelbott today declared peace. Donelbott, an alleged automobile thief, shook hands with Sheriff J. Alf Edwards and promised to behave.

White, Negro Marry Despite Klan Warning

ROCKVILLE, Conn., Feb. 7.—Justice of the Peace Carl Goehring, of Ellington, announced today that he had married Miss Beatrice Fuller, white, and her mulatto sweetheart, Clarence Kellem.

Goehring said the ceremony was performed at Kellem's home here early today. The couple left secretly for Philadelphia immediately afterward.

Undismayed by the refusal of the Rev. George S. Broome, Congregational pastor, to perform the ceremony late last night, the 19-year-old girl, who claims descent from Mayflower stock, and her dusky fiancee were reported to have appeared later to Goehring, who agreed to marry them.

While Rockville citizens, many of whom had vigorously opposed the mixed marriage, slept, the justice of the peace hurried to the mulatto's home, where the wedding was held in the presence of only Mr. and Mrs. Amos Taylor, stepfather and mother of the bride, and relatives of the bridegroom.

In taking the "blue blooded" American girl as his bride, Kellem defied not only conventions but also the Ku Klux Klansmen, who, he claimed, had threatened to flog him if he insisted on the wedding.

The negro said last night he had received threats from the K. K. K. A confirmation of his report a fiery cross flared from atop Pillbury Hill, near the Kellem home, while the mulatto was seeking a minister to perform the ceremony.

MURDER CONFESSION FORCED, SAYS COEN

HANFORD, Calif., Feb. 7.—Taking the witness stand in his own defense, Perry Allen Coen today asserted that his purported confession to the double slaying of Mr. and Mrs. George Mace Artist was made under duress.

Coen said he was intimidated, struck over the forehead and cursed by the officers before signing the confession.

The accused slayer declared he was refused food and threatened by members of the sheriff's office and added that he "would not have made this statement if I were not sick and in fear of the officers."

WOMAN FORGER IS GIVEN PRISON TERM

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7.—Mrs. Alice Lowry Tiernan, 57, former U. S. commissioner and county judge in Texas, convicted on eight counts of forgery, today faced a sentence of from one to 14 years in San Quentin penitentiary.

Leniency of Superior Judge John J. Fleming, who ruled that the sentence on the eight counts should be served concurrently, prevented a possible sentence of from 8 to 113 years.

Local department stores were swindled by the woman, whose expensive automobile and liveried chauffeur impressed them with her apparent wealth and led them to cash large checks.

REBELS' ACTIVITIES INCREASE IN MEXICO

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 7.—Rebel activities are increasing and lawless bands are cutting communications and looting villages, a dispatch to the newspaper Universal from Queretaro said today.

The dispatch said communications had been cut between Mariscal and Escobedo and between La Griega and La Noelia, while the town of San Miguel Allen, in Guanajuato state, was out of communication because telegraph wires had been severed.

The town of Colon, it was said, was entered by rebels and sacked, as were five outlying farms.

Federal troops, under command of General Balleas, were closing in on the rebels in two columns and hoped to surround them.

House Appropriations Committee Approves Big Expenditure

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Expenditure of nearly $13,000,000 for federal prohibition enforcement in the next fiscal year was approved today by the house appropriations committee.

This amount was included in the treasury and postoffice appropriation bill, reported to the house, carrying more than $2,225,000,000.

The bill also provided funds for the prohibition activities of the coast guard and customs service. Of the $13,000,000 for the customs service $787,500 is for 315 border patrol men transferred from the prohibition bureau.

Coast Guard For upkeep of the coast guard's navy, now largely engaged in suppressing liquor smuggling, a total of $28,902,570 is provided, part of it for three new rum chasing vessels. The total for the prohibition bureau is $12,728,140.

The bill carries a total of $2,225,000,000. The treasury gets $298,000,190. The treasury gets $298,000,190.

STATE WINS POINT IN CONVICT TRIAL

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 7.—Francis battling against the admission of a Folsom prison guard's testimony, attorneys defending the six convict ring leaders lost an important point at today's session of the murder trial in which the six are accused of slaying Guard Ray Singleton.

Frank C. Thompson, gatekeeper and guard at the prison, was the center of the legal dispute. The defense argued that proper grounds had not been laid by the district attorney for his testimony. Judge J. F. Pullen excused the jury from the courtroom until the objection by the defense was overruled.

REPORT ON SHIPPING MEASURE WITHHELD

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—An agreement to withhold a report on the Jones resolution, prohibiting the proposed sale of three government-owned Pacific ship lines, was reached late today by the senate commerce committee. No action will be taken until the lines are opened by the shipping board on Saturday.

White, Negro Marry Despite Klan Warning

Solons' Power Challenged By Oil Executive

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Justice Jennings Bailey took under advisement in District of Columbia supreme court today the question of the U. S. senate's right to compel Col. Robert W. Stewart to answer questions put by its Teapot Dome committee.

Defense Given Until Monday to File Brief on Points Involved

STEWART, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, formally challenged in court the senate's power to require him to testify concerning disposal of $3,000,000 in Liberty bond profits of the Continental Trading company.

S. A. AVIATORS HOP TODAY ON ENDURANCE TRY

IMPERIAL, Calif., Feb. 7.—Successful tests have given Albin K. Peterson and Charles F. Rocheville of Santa Ana, increased hope that they will be able to set a new world's endurance flight record when they take off here late today in their Zenith Albatross plane.

The plane went up on its final test late yesterday, carrying a load equal to that which will be aboard when it hops off on the record try.

The giant plane moved down the specially constructed runway slowly, gathered speed and with perfect handling and grace made a beautiful takeoff.

SEVERE TREMORS FELT IN ALASKA

CORDOVA, Alaska, Feb. 7.—Severe earth tremors were felt at the naval radio station here late last night.

The tremors, which lasted about 10 seconds, were of an east and west motion.

The movements also were reported at Cape Hitchbrook.

No known damage resulted.

RECALL PETITIONS AGAINST NEWPORT COUNCILMEN FILED

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 7.—Recall petitions directed against Felix Modjeska and Harry M. Williamson, city councilmen, were filed with the city council here last night. The documents were referred to City Attorney Franklin G. West for checking. They were certified to their sufficiency by City Clerk Alfred Smith. West was granted one week in which to check the petitions.

The delay was not unexpected, rumors yesterday being to the effect that efforts would be made to delay the election. Recall ad-

PROBE OF WESTERN OIL FIRMS ASKED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—A resolution for a special senate committee investigation for alleged violation of the anti-trust law by oil companies in Arizona and California was introduced today by Senator Ashurst, Democrat, Arizona, and referred to the interstate commerce committee.

Ashurst read a telegram from a Phoenix citizen, complaining that some independent oil retailers who sold at lower rates than the big companies were being refused business.

Alleged Church Threat Writer Arrested In L. A.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7.—Letters purported to contain threats against Almee Semple McPherson, the Rev. "Fighting Bob" Shuler and leaders of the Bible Institute, led to the arrest of Gibson Johnson, 58, a laborer, here today.

Detectives were attempting to learn whether the writer of the letters had any connection with the recent bombing at Shuler's Trinity Methodist church. The man was believed to be a religious fanatic and was booked on suspicion of insanity.

The notes did not threaten death, but scriptural quotations led police to believe that the man may have plotted against the lives of those to whom he sent them.

SHARP STRUGGLE SEEN Secretary Will Not Run in Other States with Favorite Sons, Friends Say

BY PAUL R. MALLON United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Secretary of Commerce Hoover probably will enter the Ohio presidential primary, it was learned here today. His friends say he has about decided to accept the challenge of Senator Willis, of Ohio, who hitherto has insisted that the Ohio Republican delegation in Kansas City in June be a Willis delegation, first, last and all the time.

The invitation of a newly formed Ohio Hoover committee to enter the primary had not reached the secretary early this forenoon. It was expected, however, an answer thereto will be made in the next few days. This probably will be an acceptance.

Would Mark Formal Entry Such acceptance would mark Hoover's formal entry into the campaign for the presidential nomination.

Hoover's friends said today he intends to participate in several primaries, including Maryland, New Jersey and New Hampshire. Hoover does not intend, however, to enter in such states as Indiana, Illinois and Nebraska, where favorite sons are running.

Air Treaty Approved By Cuba Parley

HAVANA, Feb. 7.—Twenty-four hours before the scheduled arrival here of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, the communications committee of the Pan-American conference today unanimously approved what was intended to be a final draft of the first Pan-American commercial aviation treaty, designed to open up the western hemisphere to air traffic.

The text of the treaty as submitted by the American delegate, Henry P. Fletcher, reporter for the committee, was approved without alteration and it was urged that the chief delegates of the 21 nations represented here sign the treaty for their governments.

A. THRESPIAN SPEAKS BEFORE P. W. CLUB

A short program but an interesting one, greeted members of the Professional Women's club yesterday, when they lunched at St. Ann's Inn, and were entertained by Harry Brachett, prominent Community Player, and business man of the city.

Mrs. Laura Murray, president, informed the members that the next card party netted them a sum of $10—a very gratifying result. The party was given for the purpose of raising funds for the club, which will be an event of a near future.

Brachett was introduced by Miss Robbin, chairman of the literary program committee. He gave two Kipling poems, prefacing

Chiropractic Will Get You Well

Your body at one time functioned normally, and if given the chance will do so again. Pinched nerves are the cause of most human ailments, and by removing this pressure we are able to restore permanent relief from your sickness or disease.

Why does your feet fall asleep when you cross your legs? Simply because you are producing pressure upon the great sciatic nerve, thus cutting off the nerve force to that extremity. A spinal nerve pressure acts much in the same way. It is difficult to walk when your feet are numb, likewise the organs or parts of your body will not function properly when they do not receive the proper amount of nerve energy.

GRAD STUDENTS OF WASHINGTON U. ARE PUNISHED

(By United Press)
SEATTLE, Wn., Feb. 7.—Five members of Coach Enoch Bagshaw's varsity football team and four other students prominent in University of Washington campus activities were punished today for being members of the hooded gang that last Thursday night kidnapped Marion Zionscheck, student body president, hazed him and then threw him in Lake Washington.

Two of the number have been expelled from the university, six have been suspended from all athletic and other activities for 11 months and the other has been suspended for a shorter period.

Those who took part in the hanging and who have been either expelled or suspended, are:

Wilbur McGuire, head of the associated student publicity bureau.

John W. Geehan, varsity quarterback.

Leland Shelton, varsity guard.

Elliott Pulver, substitute varsity quarterback.

Walter Zahl, varsity end.

Joseph Bowen, substitute varsity center.

Hall Johnson, guard on the basketball team.

Chad Knowles, student manager of the basketball team.

Phillip Wolgemuth, manager of the varsity football squad.

President Lyle M. Spencer refused to divulge who had been expelled and who had been suspended.

ORAL ARGUMENTS IN SUIT BEGUN TODAY

With a deluge of words equal to the flood of waters in the Santiago creek last February, which destroyed a part of the orchard belonging to W. B. Dennis, of Orange, attorneys in his $25,000 damage suit against that city today were placing their final arguments before a jury in Superior court.

The case has lasted for over a week and is expected to be before the jury this afternoon. George Holden, attorney for Dennis, L. A. West and L. F. Coburn, attorneys for the city, brought up their heavy artillery this morning and trained it on the 12 jurors, with what effect it is not yet known.

Dennis claims that the city allowed Kavanagh and Twoby to dredge for gravel too near his land adjoining the creek, thereby causing it to cave in when the creek became over strenuous.

West contended that only when Orange county completes its flood control program will such devastation be prevented, while Holden declared that the trench dug by the gravel firm, even though it might have been intended for protection work, was a dangerous menace so long as the property was not immediately given protection against the water.

BRUCE E. SWITZLER ELECTED JUNIOR CHAMBER PRESIDENT AT ANNUAL MEETING MONDAY

Bruce E. Switzler will lead the Santa Ana Junior Chamber of Commerce through 1928. Switzler, who is one of the founders of the organization here, was elected president last night at Ketur's cafe, where the junior body gathered for its annual election of officers.

The new executive promised to develop a "vigorous and constructive program and to carry it out with the backing of the organization's membership."

Bob Fernandez, retiring president, predicted plenty of success in 1928 under Switzler's guidance and recalled that he has "been in the middle" ever since the inception of the junior chamber filling one job or another.

Ridley Smith, formerly secretary of the body, was elected to fill the chair of first vice president, while Loyal King, business manager of The Register, was chosen for second vice president. Cecil J. Marks, of the Business Men's association, is to act as secretary, while Fred Crowell, assistant manager of the Los Angeles First National bank branch here, will be treasurer.

New Constitution
A new constitution and by-laws, in keeping with the approved form adopted by the national body, in which the local organization is now affiliated, was accepted. Slight changes were made in the document after it had been passed on by the board of directors.

From a list of 24 nominees selected by the direct primary route, 13 directors were elected. Six are to serve for two years and six for one year.

The six who will be in office for the two-year term are: Si Featherly, Bob Fernandez, Ernest Winbigger, Merle Hussong, B. E. Morland and Virgil Clem.

The one-year directors are: Harry Westover, "Tex" Oliver, Art Blanding, Paul Ragan, Dr. C. V. Doty and Allison Honer.

Fernandez Praised
In taking office as president, Switzler praised Fernandez for the accomplishments of his administration.

"If I put over half as much constructive work as he has done, I shall be proud," the new president declared. He emphasized the civic responsibility of the junior chamber members and stated that in the future they are the men who will lead the city politically and in other constructive fields.

Four new members joined the Jacians last night. Deputy Sheriff Jesse Elliott introduced Chief Criminal Deputy Sheriff F. W. Howard and Jailer George Boyd, both of whom entered the organization.

Dave Lipscomb, formerly of Anaheim, and now connected with the Frigidair organization in Santa Ana, became a member. While Cecil Jones, formerly of Brea and now with the Remington-Rand organization here, added his name to the member list.

Duke Orbach, from the Critter-ton theater, in Los Angeles, treated the gathering to some of his humor and extended an invitation to the members to attend the program now showing there.

A feature of the new basis on which the organization is working is the provision that junior members may present propositions to the senior body and vote on them. The same privilege is extended to senior members in respect to the Jacians' meetings.

HERMAN REUTER IS REMOVED TO HOME

Herman Reuter, city editor of the Fullerton Tribune, injured in an automobile accident near the Orange county hospital, early Saturday morning, was removed to his home on Fruit street, here, from the hospital yesterday. His condition is greatly improved.

Reuter was riding in the machine driven by C. A. Rousseau, when it collided with a truck driven by Alfred N. Taylor, 6114 South Broadway, Los Angeles, according to a report filed at the sheriff's office. He suffered a severe cut across the forehead and other minor injuries.

Rousseau also was injured but did not require medical attention, it was said.

SUPERVISORS VISIT COUNTY'S AIRPORT

A visit to the Orange County airport for the purpose of investigating the possibility of building roads to the field, as well as laying a runway, was scheduled for the board of supervisors and the advisory committee on aviation at 1 p. m. today, according to Anter Derraga, member of the committee.

The question of appropriating money for developing the field was believed to be a matter which would be considered by the board after its return.

Derraga stated that despite the recent rains, the airport is exceptionally dry and could be used today if necessary. The drainage is better than it was expected to be, he said.

KANSAS ORATOR OPENS CHURCH CAMPAIGN HERE

The meetings of Dr. Gerald B. Winrod, Kansas lecturer and editor, got underway last night when he delivered his first lecture on "Science and Religion" to a full house in the Christian Alliance Chapel, at Cypress and Bishop streets. He will be heard each night this week on subjects along the general line of scientific Christian thought.

In laying the foundation for his week of addresses, he said last night, "there is a natural world and there is a spiritual world. Science is the religion of things natural, and religion is the science of things spiritual. Between the actual proved facts of science and religion there is perfect harmony, but between the guesses of scientists and the dogma of religionists there is discord. Render unto science the things that belong to science, but render unto God the things that are God's."

"Let men of science confine themselves to what they can prove and they will find a beautiful harmony between science and the Bible. There is an unpleasant dogmatism running through much of modern science. It has never occurred to some scientists that they might be mistaken. It was science that killed people for teaching the world is round. Science in the Middle Ages professed to read the future by the stars. Science used to teach that baser metals could be transmuted into gold."

"In the beginning, God"—this is the first great fact of all true science. Everything in nature bears the stamp of creation, showing it to be a manufactured product, given life from an invisible spiritual source. God wrote two books—the Book of Books and the book of nature. There is no discord between the two books. The trouble is in the eyes through which the books are read."

Christianity is not mere sentiment, dogma and theology. It rests upon certain eternal spiritual laws that are as fixed as the laws of mathematics. We might as well talk about revising the laws of chemistry as to talk about revising the creeds of Christendom. Our creeds are exact statements of spiritual verities. Comply with these laws and definite results will be experienced; oppose them and suffer the consequences.

"All root causes proceed from the spiritual sphere. Effects are registered in the material world. Natural law deals at one end with force and matter and at the other end with spirit. Every fact proved in science is linked to a spiritual mystery which science cannot prove. Biology tells about life it cannot tell what life is, for all life is spirit in action, a gift from God. Newton discovered gravitation; he did not discover gravity; that has not been discovered yet. Astronomy cannot tell what holds the planets in space, because force has its origin in the eternal spirit."

"The Millikan ray is one hundred times as powerful as the X-ray. It registers through three feet of steel. No scientist can tell what the cosmic ray is made of, because it is super-physical in origin. Some one has said it is God. No, the cosmic ray is not God; it is the hem of God's spiritual garment. Trace every manifest thing into its root cause, and you take it into the spiritual sphere. The science of the future will be a spiritual science."

"God is a spirit, and the real permanent, enduring values of life are spiritually discerned."

Tonight Dr. Winrod will speak on "Christ Within;" Wednesday "Faith, Prayer and Realization;" Thursday afternoon, "Jonah and the Whale;" Thursday night, "Life After Death;" Friday afternoon "Dispensation Truth;" Friday night, "The Second Coming of Christ."

THIS WOMAN FOUND RELIEF

After Long Suffering by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

In a little town of the Middle West, was a discouraged woman. For four months she had been in such poor health that she could not stoop to put on her own shoes. Unable to do her work, unable to go out of doors or enjoy a friendly chat with her neighbors, life seemed dark indeed to Mrs. Daugherty.

Then one day, a booklet was left at her front door. Idly she turned the pages. Soon she was reading with quickened interest. The little booklet was filled with letters from women in conditions similar to hers who had found better health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"I began taking the Vegetable Compound," Mrs. Daugherty writes, "and after I took the third bottle, I found relief. I am on my eleventh bottle and I don't have that trouble any more, and feel like a different woman. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to everyone I see who has trouble like mine. I am willing to answer any letters from women asking about the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Ed. DAUGHERTY, 1248 Orchard Ave., Muscatine, Iowa.

THEIR MADE SAFE FUTURE BY AN INSURANCE TRUST

A MAN'S duty to his family is not ended when he has had his life insured. If he leaves the proceeds of his insurance to his wife and children outright it is subjected to certain hazards and dangers that may fail to attain its purpose—to produce an income that will offset the loss of his ability to supply one.

The delegation of the distribution of this money to the First National Bank through an Insurance Trust gives a man's family the benefit of business-like management of the funds, paying them out in income form, or using them for emergencies.

ORANGE COUNTY BEETLES PROVE OF GREAT HELP

Orange county was revealed to day as a Good Samaritan to other citrus regions of Southern California, with A. A. Brock, horticultural commissioner, helping the act along.

For this section seems to be the most dependable training camp known for the army of small beetles called Vedalia, which are marshaled every year for attacks on cottony cushion scale. Each season Brock answers calls from other districts for a few corps of the little insects.

The most recent section to profit by the large number of Vedalia here is Imperial county, and Brock has just received a letter of thanks from B. A. Harrigan, horticultural commissioner there, for a colony sent down to eat the cottony scale from the grapefruit orchards.

It is only necessary to send a few beetles, Brock pointed out, for they are exceptionally good, reducing a standing army of 75 billion in five months.

Some sections, however, find it necessary to replenish their supply of scale eaters every year or two, and Brock comes to the rescue with a supply from Orange county. The reason for depletion in some other regions lies in the warmer summer temperatures, he pointed out. The scale dries up to a point where it can no longer furnish food for the Vedalia. The insects die off, and in cooler weather the scale becomes active again. But there is no enemy to attack it and it thrives at a rapid rate.

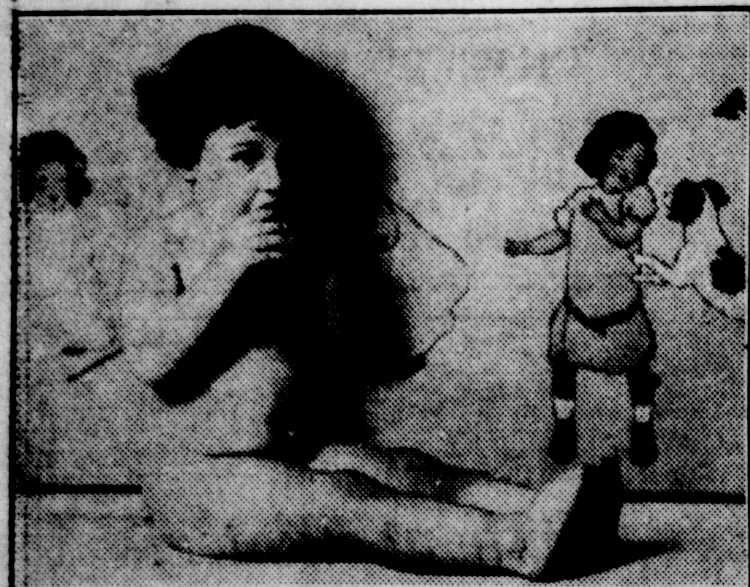

Thus it is necessary to keep a supply of edible scale on hand through the summer in order to keep alive the Vedalia so that they can attack the scale again when it becomes active. Orange county is one of few regions in which the climate is such that there are Vedalia on hand throughout the year.

OIL MAN FINED

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 7.—R. M. Sullivan, 28, local oil worker, paid a $20 fine here yesterday after pleading guilty to a charge of being intoxicated. He was arrested Sunday. R. Douglas, 26, of Santa Ana, paid a $25 fine for a similar offense.

PILES STOPPED PAZO OINTMENT

Care of Babies

Why do many, many babies of today escape all the little fretful chills and infantile ailments that used to worry mothers through the day, and keep them up half the night?

If you don't know the answer, you haven't discovered pure, harmless Castoria. It is sweet to the taste, and sweet in the little stomach. And its gentle influence seems felt all through the tiny system. Not even a distasteful dose of castor oil does so much good. And it is so pleasant to take. Taste it yourself, and you'll know why "Children Cry for It."

Fletcher's Castoria is purely vegetable, so you may give it freely, at first sign of colic; or when you even suspect the approach of constipation or diarrhea. Or those many times when you just don't know what is the matter. For real sickness, call the doctor, always. At other times, a few drops of Fletcher's Castoria. See how quickly all fretfulness or wakefulness ceases!

Only one word of warning: the above advice is true of genuine

Castoria. The kind called Fletcher's, bearing Fletcher's signature is genuine—and does not contain opiates or any other drug that can harm your baby. Other preparations may be just as free from harm; the writer does not know as to that, but does know one family whose children will never make the experiment!

SPECIAL NOTE: With every bottle of genuine Fletcher's Castoria is wrapped a book on "Care and Feeding of Babies" worth its weight in gold to every mother or prospective mother.

SCHOOL NEWS

FRANCES WILLARD

J. A. Walton Lecture
J. A. Walton, representative of the Anti-Cigarette League, gave an instructive and interesting lecture to the student body on Wednesday morning. Mr. Walton speaks to boys and girls in a most understandable way and gives facts in a way that will not be quickly forgotten. He has talked to the students of Willard several times before and they are always glad to welcome him back.

New Teacher

Mrs. Scott, wife of Horace Scott of the Santa Ana high school junior college faculty, is a new member of the Frances Willard teaching staff. She is teaching the seventh grade English and geography.

Miss Libby Improving

Miss Marian Libby, art director of Frances Willard, is gaining rapidly now after an illness of several weeks, and expects to be back at her work in the near future.

Wild Flower Picture Exhibit

Mr. Kellogg has arranged a most attractive exhibit of large colored photographs of wild flowers of the desert in the main hall. These pictures are labeled with their common as well as scientific names so they can be classified and studied by those especially interested in this division of flower life. The pictures were made by Martinelli of Los Angeles and are highly valued. Mr. Kellogg extends an invitation to the public to come and see this lovely display. The desert flowers will be at their height the last of March.

New Pupils at Willard

Seventy-five new seventh graders are starting on their new school life at Willard this week. These pupils already feel quite at home as there are plenty of upper grade pupils who are helping them adjust themselves in the new environment. The enrollment of Willard is now over 500.

Assembly

The 5th class had charge of the student assembly last Friday and entertained the student body with an interesting program. The program was as follows: Piano solo, by Max Elliott, vocal solo, "I Love You Truly" by Frances Wilson, accompanied by Miss Davis. The third number was a song "Dawn of Tomorrow" by Faye McCurdy, accompanied by Velma Smith. Jack Wright then gave a humorous reading, "My Darling Jennie." A vocal duet followed, "California's Lullaby" sung by Faye McCurdy and Frances Wilson. They were accompanied by Miss Davis. A quartet sang "My Blue Heaven," De Estin Finn, Irving Tuttle, Lawrence Garrison and Wernuth Bickel.

Mr. Ellis, farm advisor, showed some interesting pictures and talked about them.

Class Party

The 5th section of the low ninth grade had a very enjoyable party at the new home of Helen Martin, 1600 West Washington avenue. The evening was spent playing group games and later refreshments were served by the hostess. A most delightful time was had by all those present. Miss Elliott, the class teacher, was present.

Willard Service Club

At the regular luncheon hour last Tuesday the Willard Service club greeted its new members, each one giving a short speech expressing his appreciation of being selected to join the club. The following new members were present: Dick Pinkerton, Harold Runyon, Cloy Francis, Max Helne, Guy Purrington, Roy Grundrum, Harlan Traylor, Charles Warner and Leonard Lockhart.

The following officers were elected: President, George Munroe; vice president, Glen Evans; secretary-treasurer, Dick Pinkerton; reporter, Cloy Francis; sergeant-at-arms, Harold Runyon and John Cropsy.

Willard Welfare Club

At the latest meeting of the Willard Welfare club held at the luncheon hour last Wednesday, the girls greeted new members, each whom gave a speech of appreciation for their election to membership in the girls service club. Helen Stettin, Florence Watson, Blanche Christensen and Natalie Neff were the new members taken in at this meeting. Mary Helen Bell, the new president, presided.

Latin Class Exhibit Work

The Latin class, under the direction of Mrs. Thatcher, arranged a most attractive exhibit of note books, special articles, pictures, and other things of the Roman period. Of special interest were articles carved from soap by the members. In this collection were Roman faces, the Triumphal Arches, Caesar, and the bas-relief of the wooden horse of Troy which concealed the Greek warriors. The note books, all of which have very attractive and appropriate cover designs, include articles which relate Latin to the English, and feature articles of ancient and modern Rome, Roman life, Roman dress and other allied subjects.

Self-Government Plan

At the suggestion and advice of Mrs. Thatcher the 6e section, which is now Miss Ball's home room class, has adopted a self-government plan. The members of the class used good judgment in their selection of the jury which is to hear the prosecution and defense for members brought before them for misconduct. A judge also has been selected, who the class feels will be capable of giving a fair verdict and unprejudiced punishment. The judge is Kenneth Beard, who has proven his reliability as president of the Willard Service club. Those serving on the jury are Betty Hawk, Cloy Francis, Ethel Ellis and Dick Pinkerton. The class president, Gene Hall, is to act on the jury also.

The class feels that as the teacher's principal duty is teaching and not reforming, the self-government plan will prove helpful in many ways.

JULIA LATHROP

New Faculty Members

Julia Lathrop is glad to welcome three new faculty members this semester. Miss Graham, who has received her Masters Degree from U. S. C. and has had previous experience in junior and high school work in Colorado and Los Angeles, is teaching English and general language. Ralph Baker, former reporter on the Chicago Tribune and professor of English and dramatics at Alton senior high, Illinois, is a member of the English department. Miss Gould, director of instrumental music in the city elementary schools—will direct the orchestra work.

I. X. L. Club

The program for the I. X. L. meeting, January 19, offered musical numbers, presentation of new officers, a speech by Roland Dye, Boy Scout executive, and the presentation of the new scout master—Mr. Whitson.

Reception to Low Sevens

Following the custom as before, the present low nine girls were the big sisters and the low nine boys were the big brothers for the incoming low seven. The reception was held Wednesday 6th period.

The following program was presented by the Every Girl's club and the I. X. L. club in the Four Square Gospel church:

Introduction of president; speech of welcome, Alberta Greene; response, Jeannette Brown, (McKinley); piano solo, Margaret Guard; greetings, President I. X. L. club, Jack Belding; response, Richard Holmes, (Spurgeon); speech, Louise Markwalder; reading, Vera Getty; violin duet, James Danerl, William Friend; reading, Vivian Rogers; reading of list of little sisters, Mrs. Webber; march, Earl Motley.

After the program the little brothers and sisters were shown around the building by the big brothers and big sisters.

Scholarship Party

The Scholarship society had a delightful party Tuesday evening, January 24, 1928. It was held at Dorothy Prebble's home at 415 West Pine at seven-thirty o'clock.

Every Girl's Assembly

The assembly of the Every Girl's club last Thursday was one of the most interesting assemblies put on during the year. This was a special Assembly in order to give Miss Foster a chance to show what her sewing girls had accomplished during the semester.

The assembly was in charge of Miss Foster and Miss Plavan. After the minutes of the last meeting were read the new officers of the Every Girl's club were installed. Following this Rebecca McPeak and Bernice Elliot gave a dialogue, in which sewing in school was discussed and the coming fashion review. The girl of yesterday was shown, first, about three dozen old costumes were worn by the girls and there were some such quaint old costumes. Billie Brucke gave a pianologue, called "Dance Fashion." The 5th grade girls next appeared in the dresses which they made in the sewing room. Miss Foster has a right to be proud of these girls. Ann Shaffer sang that old song, "In the Sweet Long Ago." She was dressed in an old fashioned costume and introduced an old fashioned dance.

Twelve 5th grade girls appeared in their pajamas made in sewing—and how pretty they looked—a lovely variety of style and color.

Mary and Margaret Foster sang "Fashions" the words of which were written by Vivian Rogers. Last but not least 20 ninth grade girls came out in their lovely prints, voiles, and linens, they had just finished in their classes.

Miss Foster considers this term's work the best yet accomplished in Julia Lathrop and she and the girls have a right to be happy in their work. The incoming classes will have to hurry if they do better work.

LOWELL

The 6B grade gave the 6As a farewell party on Thursday. First we had our entertainment. Then we played many games. Thomas Hammill won a gunnysack race, and got a prize. After the games were played we had our refreshments which consisted of ice cream, cake, punch and candy.

We are proud of the record of Donald Stratman, one of our 6As, who left for Julia Lathrop. He has attended Lowell school for three years without being either tardy or absent.

Harold Baker.

In art we are drawing Lincoln at the capitol. Most of the drawings have turned out real well. Next week we are going to make valentines.

Dorothy McGurgan.

Last Friday Miss Lazare gave the glee club a party. We played games and had a very good program. When we got to the tables we were surprised to find little gum drop dolls. Also pretty painted place cards.

Jane Siddaway.

March 13 we are going to have a Fathers' P-T. A. meeting so that the fathers can come and see what we are doing in school.

Jane Suffham.

Lowell school has a new basketball ground. We are getting up a basketball team. We are going to play Spurgeon February 8. A high school boy comes every night and helps us learn.

Leonard Lockhart.

SILVER ACRES

SILVER ACRES, Feb. 7.—The Silver Acres Woman's club met last week at the home of Mrs. Lydia Pysden, with Mrs. Stella Farnsworth as co-hostess. After a short business meeting a social hour was enjoyed. Refreshments were served. Members present were Vera Berry, Miss Hilma Marks, Evelyn Scottfield, Lydia Weide, Bonnie Marks, Hattie Drake, Hallie Patterson, Libby Head, Pauline Patterson, Gladys Annin, Laura Anderson, Flora Baker, Helen Gomez, Mary Alice Hess, Elizabeth Sargent, Ruth Baker and the hostesses, Mrs. Lydia Pysden and Mrs. Stella Farnsworth.

Vigilors were Mrs. D. Bates, Miss Josephine Mon. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Helen Gomez, with Mrs. Mary Hess and Mary Alice Hess as co-hostesses.

The Indeo Boy Scouts of Silver Acres went to Bellflower Wednesday evening to play indoor baseball against the Bellflower Boy Scouts.

Knocks Out Rheumatic Agony In 5 Days

C. S. Kelley, Offers Trial of Wonder Working Capsules On Money Back Basis

Why men and women will go on suffering terrible rheumatic agony and run the risk of being permanently crippled and helpless is beyond all understanding, say druggists, when a few days use of these little wonder capsules Allenru No. 2 will bring glorious relief and quickly clear up every twinge and ache—even for those who have been victims for years.

To back up this statement, to prove to every sufferer to rheumatic torture in this country that the claims for Allenru Number 2 are not exaggerated in any way C. S. Kelley Drug Co. and every druggist who is dispensing this wonder-remedy make this offer—a fair and square offer if ever one was made: If, after using Allenru Number 2 Capsules as directed for 5 days there is a pain or ache left—if you are not free from rheumatic distress your money will be promptly refunded without comment.—Adv.

DEMPSEY ADMIRERS

There are thousands and thousands of Dempsey admirers who are glad, in view of the reported weakness of his left eye, that the old man-mauler will never fight again.

Perhaps the report of the eye trouble has been slightly exaggerated, but it must be remembered that Dempsey himself admits the trouble and also says that he may never fight again.

That view taken by Dempsey is pleasing to his many admirers, who, although anxious to see their idol in the ring again, much prefer his taking the safer course to prevent any serious mishap and by such a course absent himself from ring battles.

Dempsey, to many thousands, always will be the champion despite the two knockings received from Gene Tunney. These thousands, therefore, are glad that he will not fight again and take the chance of being beaten badly.

Dempsey, if he fought again, would be the choice of many because of a sensational attachment for him to win, regardless of whom he fought. But even though he could whip the majority of current heavyweights, his decision to quit is welcome news.

OTHER RING CASES

Many cases similar to the Dempsey case are on record in the history of the ring.

The punching does it, and Dempsey has taken many punches that while not hurting at the time has finally exacted a toll. Especially was the eye cut many times in his two fights with Gene Tunney. Tunney's right hand seemed to be meeting it always.

The most notable cases of eye trouble in ring history are those of Pete Herman, Irish Patsy Cline, Pete Sarmiento and Sam Langford.

Herman, one of the greatest bantams that ever lived, went totally blind. Cline's eyes went back on him. Pete Sarmiento is now back in the Philippines, with the sight of one eye impaired. Sam Langford went punch blind.

Constant blows on the eyes are bound to exact some physical hardship. It is surprising that so few cases are recorded of eye trouble caused by blows in the ring.

HAD THE COLOR

With Dempsey passing out of the current picture, it means the passing of the most colorful fighter that ever lived.

Dempsey had what the boys like—the old sock, and it was his old sock that enabled Tex Rickard to charge $40 tops and reap million dollar gates.

There may come another Dempsey some day, but there are none now on the heavyweight horizon. And until another does come along, with the punch that made Dempsey famous, one cannot expect any more million dollar crowds to gather in to watch the fighters do their stuff.

Whether Gene Tunney likes it or not, it was Dempsey who drew the fans in at their two fights, and should Jack ever decide to fight again, no matter whom he fights, it will be Dempsey who will pack 'em in again.

There likely will never be another Dempsey. But the old bag has been such a fighter that the world does not need another Dempsey to cause him to be remembered.

COUNTY LEAGUE HOOP LEADERS AFTER REVENGE

Class B Quintets to Play Preliminary; Game Last Practice One of Week

Basketball of more than ordinary interest will be offered Santa Ana tonight when Coach Bill Foote's Poly varsity defends its recently won laurels against Coach Ned Chambers' Orange high school squad, undefeated leaders of the Orange County league.

The contest, preceded by a preliminary between the Class B (130-pound) quintets of the same institutions, will be played in Andrews gymnasium on the local high school campus. The curtain-raiser will begin at 7:30 o'clock and the first string tangle will immediately follow, at about 8:30 o'clock.

Santa Ana and Orange clashed at Orange two weeks ago and the Saints were victorious in both "A" and "B" starts, the margin being 19 to 15 in the varsity division. This was described as one of the most thrilling basketball matches ever waged in Orange, the play in the final moments being so rough that the officials were forced to warn the contestants on several occasions. Dews, Orange forward, suffered a broken collar bone in one mixup and probably will be lost to the neighbors for the remainder of the campaign.

Nevertheless, the disgruntled Orangemen, aching for revenge after defeats in football and basketball, will come here determined to even scores with Foote's much improved quintet.

It is not often that Santa Ana has a hoop combination competent to cope with the invaders so the current season has been quite as pleasing as it has been surprising to the old timers here.

Neither coach has announced even a tentative starting lineup but it is likely that Chambers will use Carvajal and Walker at forwards, Pease at center and Edwards and Valentine at guards. Walker, Pease and Edwards were all members of the Orange football team which Santa Ana defeated.

Foot is expected to start Schuchardt and Youel at forwards, Rust or Beatty at center, and Swindler and Captain "Red" Sullivan at guard.

This will be the only practice combat of the week for the local teams which are scheduled to go against Pasadena in Coast Preparatory league meetings here Friday evening.

'TUT' IMLAY QUILTS PROFESSIONAL GAME

SALINAS, Calif., Feb. 7.—Talma ("Tut") Imlay, diminutive former football captain of the University of California Bears and later a member of a professional team headed by himself and Ernie Nevins, is through with the "old game" forever.

"I'm through with football for good," Imlay told the United Press here today. "I'll have to stop some time. I've got to look ahead and see what I'll be ten years from now. And I think now is the best time for me to stop."

"I broke my leg twice last year and if I keep on playing the old limb is liable to crack seriously any time. I've had a good time playing the game—it's a wonderful sport—but one can't keep it up forever."

"I'm through."

TEXAS OPEN GOLFERS BEGIN TITLE ROUND

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Feb. 7.—Sixty-four golfers were to compete today for championship honors in the annual Texas open tournament. When today's play started, Tom Lally, young pro of the San Antonio Country club, led the field as a result of his 144 for the initial 36 holes of play.

Belgian Scrapper Defeats Courtney

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 7.—Rene De Vos of Belgium won a 10-round decision from George Courtney, Oklahoma. Each weighed 150 pounds.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 7.—Battling Lowinsky, of Philadelphia, and Buddy Seltzer of Pittsburgh, heavyweights, fought 10 rounds to a draw.

BASEBALL FOLLOWS TANGLE SUNDAY AT FAIR PARK

Which Club Is Supreme This District Is Long Awaited

The piece de resistance of the baseball will be spread in Orange county fandum next day afternoon when "Rube" fast Orange County club take Joe Rodgers' dangerous Red Sox of Huntington Beach to the fair grounds.

This one has been long a by followers of the national time in these parts and the reasons to believe that the game will establish a new man the boulevard baseball crown.

None can doubt the class of the Orange County club who have been participating in the state of Southern California winter circuits with more than a fair amount of success and the Huntington Beach delegation will come with as fine a record as any not even excepting "Dutch" Eys old Irvine tossers, has achieved in Orange county in years.

The baseball championship Orange county will be the tied issue although the O.C. club seems to have a right to some sort of a bid for the crown.

The managements of both counties and the Supplies stated that no efforts would be made to "load up" for the special meeting. The same rules that have prevailed all will wear the spangles of the moments in an effort to determine whether they play faster at Huntington Beach or at the Orange County Fair grounds.

BABE RUTH, ONCE BAD BOY OF BASEBALL, IS HEALTHY, WEALTHY ON 34TH BIRTHDAY

By GEORGE KIRKSEY

Once the bad boy of baseball, the mightiest slagger of all time has entered a new era of prosperity and is now healthy, wealthy, and happy.

COAST LEAGUE PENNANT RACE OPENS APRIL 3

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 7.—A longer baseball schedule in 1928 was the plan of Pacific Coast league officials today following adoption of the 1928 schedule.

The 1928 program calls for 26 weeks of the great pastime while next year the stars will shine a full 28 weeks, according to a decision reached by the directors of baseball affairs along the coast.

The season will begin April 3, this year, while next year the fans will begin to receive their entertainment in the way of hits, boners and strikes out the last week in March.

RUTH

ment to $70,000.

All of Ruth's money is so invested that no one, not even himself, can touch the principal.

As for his health, Ruth never felt better in his life. He spent the winter in New York but kept himself in shape by constant exercise. He will leave for the Yankees' training camp at St. Petersburg with the first squad arriving there on February 26.

Ruth is the backbone of the powerful Yankee machine but no one realizes it less than the Babe himself. For all his publicity and achievements Babe is a modest fellow.

"Those Yankees are just about the best club that ever was put together," he tells you. "And I'm glad to play with 'em."

Smart baseball men say the Yankees will go on, as long as Ruth and Gehrig keep up their hitting and from present appearances that is for some time to come. Besides setting a new record of 60 home runs last year, Ruth batted .356 in 151 games.

SHADE IS FAVORED IN MATCH TONIGHT

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7.—Dave Shade, San Francisco middleweight will enter the ring the favorite over Joe Anderson, of Covington, Ky., in their 10-round bout at the Olympic auditorium here tonight.

However, the bay city youth is given the odds by a very scant margin. Anderson's great showings against Leo Lomaki here have not been forgotten.

It was thought that Shade's crouch and weaver would give the Kentucky scrapper trouble.

Tolson Agrees To Terms With L. A.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7.—Charles ("Red") Tolson, first baseman of the Los Angeles club, has agreed to the terms of the contract with the Angels management that he is to play with the team for the 1928 season.

GODFREY PLANS L. A. WORKOUT ON TOMORROW

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7.—George Godfrey, the Lelperville, Pa., Negro heavyweight, who is to meet Paulino Uscudun here February 28, will give local fans a chance to inspect his training activities tomorrow.

Godfrey has been in seclusion at Soper's ranch, at Ojai, for more than a week. He will return to his mountain camp immediately after his workout here.

While the huge Negro is well into his second week of training, Paulino's training has been handed a setback by the immigration officials at El Paso, Tex.

The Basque was to have gotten down to business here today, but probably will not be able to start work until Thursday.

Paulino and his advisory staff of managers and interpreters were to have been entertained at a banquet at the Elks' club here last night. The affair was postponed. Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, will head the greeters committee on the Basque's arrival.

Distinguished champions in no small number took the count during the 1927 season and more in the natural course of events will step down this year, but there seems to be one pretty and popular young miss who has all the promise of a continued reign.

We asked a gentleman who makes a very handsome living by picking winners and playing them what the odds should be that Helen Wills will be the champion when the 1928 tennis season closes. "I'll lay 10 to 1," he said, without a moment's hesitation, "and I'll let you have accidents and illness against me."

It would seem then that the young Berkeley girl is sitting

You certainly picked a "comer" this time!

YOU MEN who chose Granger—much obliged! Its growth so far beats anything in our experience.

Of course we thought we knew what pipe smokers wanted—and in making Granger we certainly gave them the "works." It's differently aged, made, cut, packed and priced—with a solid reason for each difference. And apparently smokers understood those reasons as well as we did.

At that, though, one pipe-load is all the reason a man needs!

My Biggest Thrills in Tennis

Watching Veterans McLoughlin and Brookes,
Seeing Suzanne Go Down Before Molla and
Playing Mlle. Lenglen Five Years Later
Gave "Miss Poker Face" Most Excitement

by Helen Wills

Sketches by the Author

Tilden-vanquisher Lacoste . . . attracted little attention on his first visit to America.

"Everyone, sooner or later, appears on the sidelines at the tennis matches in France."

HERE is so much to tennis besides the actual game—the people you meet on the court, with their widely varied character and personality, the matches you watch from the sidelines, the places where the matches are held. All these add to the color of the game and increase its appeal as sport.

Certain matches I have watched stand out vividly in my memory for various reasons: because of the players themselves, or a thrilling and unexpected turn, or the dramatic quality which made the contests unforgettable.

Some of my earliest matches are as clear and sharp in my mind as if I had played them yesterday. I cannot remember scores or the order of games won or lost, but I do remember my feelings and have a clear recollection of my sensations and surroundings as I came to and went from the court.

I remember hearing Norman Brookes, the famous Australian player, say he could give the score of any one of his important matches during the course of his long career on the courts. He won the Wimbledon championship in 1907 and in 1914, was a member for a number of years of the Australian Davis cup team, and won twice against the brilliant star, Maurice McLoughlin.

I never saw Norman Brookes when he was playing his best game because that occurred years before I was following the sport. But in 1924 I saw him at Wimbledon when he defeated Francis Hunter in the third round of the tournament.

It was difficult to realize that nearly 20 years had elapsed since Brookes had won his first championship at Wimbledon. He was nearly 50 at the time I saw him, but he was playing fine tennis, and won from Hunter in the fifth set after a highly exciting match.

What impressed me at the time was the knowledge of the game that he revealed. He defeated a younger and far stronger opponent with tennis that was absolutely perfect from the standpoint of strategy.

HOW true it is that tennis is a game of youth and strength! Only too quickly does a wonderful and brilliant player's game fall off when he gets a little past the time for the strenuous competition of match play. Supremacy in sport is but a fleeting triumph. However, the player who plays a thinking game and understands court tactics and strategy can play good tennis for a much longer time than one who depends only upon speed and strength.

It must be tragic for the player who knows the strokes perfectly and the ins and outs of strategy, and has in past years defeated the world's court stars, to find himself unable to play the game as he knows it; to realize that the years have robbed him of his skill.

Sport in itself is not such an important issue, but to possess the play spirit and in a high degree yet not be able to express it because youth and strength are gone, is somehow tragic.

Maurice McLoughlin's game has become a legend in tennis history. His whirlwind play, terrific service, his volleying, and his speed made him one of the most dramatic figures seen in tennis. At the time of his success every small boy in the country with a tennis racket was trying to imitate him and was hitting with all his might, knocking balls wildly far out of court and over the backstop.

McLoughlin was called the "Comet" and like a comet he appeared suddenly, flashed brilliantly and was gone. There is no other player I would rather have seen than McLoughlin at his best.

I saw him play at the Berkeley Tennis club in California in an exhibition match, the first one I had ever seen, but they said then his tennis was merely a shadow of what it had been.

I remember the occasion, for I went with a tennis ball to him to have it autographed after the game was over. He was delightfully jolly and pleasant. Few players have made themselves so instantly and universally popular as he did, and become so beloved by players and fans alike.

FOR pure dramatic quality, there has never been a match in women's tennis that equals the one between Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen and Mrs. Molla Mallory in 1921 at Forest Hills. It was the first time I had been to Forest Hills. I was 15 and intensely interested in tennis. The excitement of winning the finals of the national junior girls' singles the day before was entirely forgotten as I waited for the match between Mrs. Mallory and the visiting French player.

Fortunately I had a seat directly at the end of the court where I could see everything. As the two players came on the court, the contrast was striking. Both were dressed in white, but the similarity ended there. Mrs. Mallory's bronzed tan emphasized the pallor of the French woman. Mrs. Mallory's determination was evident to all as she strode along. Mlle. Lenglen danced at her side. The air was charged with expectancy, and the stage set for a drama. A tragedy occurred.

Mlle. Lenglen started off steadily but not with the dash and brilliance that had been expected. Mrs. Mallory's shots carried speed and direction. Alert and aggressive on every shot, she made few mistakes. The score mounted in her favor. Her determination seemed to increase as she won the first set and took a substantial lead in the second.

Mlle. Lenglen, on the other hand, weakened. She coughed and appeared to be in distress. As she went on her cough became more frequent. Then she went up to the umpire's stand to say she could not continue, that she was ill.

The onlookers were astounded and amazed into complete silence. Then she left the court, leaning heavily on the arm of the French representative, and weeping. Except for a mocking cough, that came from a far corner of the grandstand, not a sound was heard. The entrance and the exit of the players could have had no greater contrast—waves of applause, then complete silence.

THERE were many sides to this match. That Mrs. Mallory's victory was well won cannot be denied. Some said that Mlle. Lenglen was not really ill, but that she saw she was to be defeated, and so defaulted.

Tennis is a game of youth, of strength and speed . . . but strategy goes a long way.

Helen Wills . . . big-tailed, 15 . . . "I little thought then that I would meet Suzanne Lenglen."

Maurice McLoughlin, left, was called "The Comet." He flashed so brilliantly and so briefly. . . . Norman E. Brookes, right. . . . At 50 showed able youngsters how to do it.

In a way, however, the circumstances were unfortunate. Mlle. Lenglen made the mistake of coming to this country only a few days before the tournament at Forest Hills commenced.

No player can become accustomed to New York climate in August in a few days. The playing conditions and the courts in New York and in France are very different.

Lenglen chose to play only in this tournament, which was also a mistake, because, by doing this, she missed the opportunity of becoming familiar with the players and the tournaments in America, which are different from those abroad.

Fate was against Mlle. Lenglen in this detail: In the draw of the tournament she found herself against Miss Eleanor Goss in the first round. The match was scheduled for the first day. Miss Goss planned to play, then she found herself too ill to go on the court. This left Mlle. Lenglen without an opponent for the first day, and with Mrs. Mallory, the best woman player in America, as her adversary on the second day. The finals, as it were, had to take place on the second day of the tournament. This was a most unfortunate situation.

Had Mlle. Lenglen been able to play against several of the less important players in the preliminary rounds, working up to the final round, where she would have met Mrs. Mallory, her dramatic defeat would probably not have taken place.

THE following year the seeded draw came into being. This means that the two best players of the tournament are placed in opposite halves in the draw, and cannot possibly meet until the finals, if they can come through against the rest of the participants.

The great error of the National Lawn Tennis committee in the Lenglen-Mallory tournament was in letting these two meet on the second day of play. Had the committee foreseen the trouble ahead they would have been only too willing to have introduced the seeded draw, for not only did this match cause a great deal of embarrassment to both the French and American tennis associations, but also did harm, for the time being, to the general friendly relations in sport between the two countries.

Sitting on the sidelines watching this surprising and unusual match, I little thought that I would ever meet Suzanne Lenglen. It was five years later at Cannes that I found myself across the net from the famous Frenchwoman.

It was a day ideal for tennis, still, and bright. The brilliant sun of the Riviera brought out the gay colors of assembled onlookers. There were English, French and Americans in the audience. The grandstands were small, and there was not much room for a gallery. There were only two gates, and it was with difficulty that Mlle. Lenglen and I got onto the court when we arrived.

Commander Hillyard, a well-known figure at Wimbledon, called the score. There was a full array of line-men. On one of the lines was Cyril Tolley, the English golf player; on another, Lord Charles Hope. It happened that these two line-men called the two most important and closest balls of the match—one in favor of Mlle. Lenglen, the other in my favor, so that the doubtful breaks were even.

I HAD never played Mlle. Lenglen before, and never since, but what impressed me most of all about her game, and that which I shall never forget, was her uncanny steadiness.

Her delivery was not particularly fast. Not nearly so fast as that of some other women players whom I have met on the court. But her returns always came back. If she had now and again, made an error, it would have been excusable, but she rarely missed on a return. This, coupled with her remarkable speed of foot, made her a practically uncatchable opponent.

The points gradually piled up, and the first set was gone at 6-3 almost before I could realize that it was over.

The second set, which went to 6-4, was close, and almost all of the games went to deuce, but I was not quite good enough to turn the tide. Mlle. Lenglen was becoming very tired, but managed to keep up her steady play and won the match in straight sets. Two other matches that stand out strongly in my mind are those between Tilden and Cockett and Tilden and Lacoste. Both were tremendously important in the tennis world, and both were disappointing to American followers of the game, for it is a natural thing for us to want our countrymen to win.

The two matches were all the more interesting to me, on the sidelines, because of the fact that I had seen the two Frenchmen play some years ago when they were just becoming accustomed to international tennis.

Their games then were nothing to compare with their present form; Tilden could have beaten them then in three straight sets with hardly the loss of a game. In fact, at that time, Tilden was American champion and his supremacy was unquestioned.

I saw Cockett on his first visit to America, at the Seabright tournament. He played well there for one so young, but his game was not strikingly forceful, and did not attract much attention.

Once, at Wimbledon, when Mrs. George Wightman and I were sitting on the sidelines watching Rene Lacoste, Mrs. Wightman said, "He will be a great player some day." I looked at Lacoste with increased interest. Yes, certainly, there was something about him on the court. He was quietly determined. He seemed always to be using his head. He would try strategic combinations of stroke and placement worthy of a far older and more experienced player. If his strategy did not work, he was unruffled. He seemed to feel that his day would come.

William Tilden says that he will again play in Paris and at Wimbledon in the spring. Another encounter with the two Frenchmen would be tremendously interesting.

CHAMPIONS come and go. There is always a changing field of competitors in the tennis world. This is what makes it so interesting. We see players on the rise and descent; we wonder about each new young player who stands out. He may be a champion; he may, for some inexplicable reason, never improve the tennis which makes him stand out, for a time, as a youthful prodigy.

Match play, as I said before, is a fascinating side of tennis—the people across the net, the matches that you watch, knowing the competitors, the atmosphere of tournament competition.

There are several tennis enthusiasts of my acquaintance who do nothing but follow the tennis season about the world, going wherever matches are being played—America in the summer, southern France, the Riviera, in the winter, Paris in spring and England in May and June.

The ideal way, I think, and the way in which the greatest pleasure can be derived from match play, is to take part in tournaments for several months in the summer. You have enough tournament play in which to work up to your best match playing form, and yet you do not become over-tired.

In this way, you enjoy keenly every moment of match play, and your game is all the better because of your enthusiasm.

IN speaking of the Riviera, I must say that no more delightful place can be found for tennis. There are many courts, of a reddish clay, excellent and fast. The game was introduced years ago by English people who came to the south of France for the winter. Since then tennis has grown greatly in popularity, and now lovers of the game from many countries are seen there every winter.

A number of American players, of greater and of less skill, will be seen there this season on the court.

On the Cote d'Azur, along the edge of the blue Mediterranean, in the towns of Cannes, Nice, Beaulieu, Monte Carlo, and Mentone, of which much has been written. Each one of these towns has its tennis club. Cannes has four or five. Monte Carlo has a wonderful new one. But tennis cannot claim the entire attention of even the most enthusiastic player. There are interesting people from every country in the world to watch and wonder about. But everyone, sooner or later, appears on the courts or on the sidelines at the tennis matches in France.

RESTRICTIONS FOR DRILLING AT BEACH SEEN

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 7.—Establishment of oil drilling restrictions in certain parts of this city probably will be an issue at the regular city election April 8, was announced here today at a meeting of the chamber of commerce. The chamber has taken a campaign to again establish restricted areas for residential purposes. The planning committee recently elected by the chamber of commerce yesterday was instructed by the directors of the organization to investigate the opposition and make a recommendation to the membership meeting to be held February 17. Several districts in the city have been tested for oil and the results abandoned. It is pointed out that these areas. Several boundaries were proposed at the meeting yesterday but the final decision was left in the hands of the planning committee.

The chamber of commerce will entertain Boy Scouts at dinner at a membership meeting, February 17. A patriotic program has been arranged for the meeting by Mrs. P. H. Baker, chairman of the entertainment committee.

The chamber of commerce directors will meet at the Golden Gate cafe in the future, it was decided yesterday. Meetings have been held at the Rotary Club. Harry Baker, owner of the Golden Gate, recently improved the dining, making accommodations for large parties and the chamber directors voted to meet in his cafe a short time.

Announcement of the program to be presented at the meeting February 17. The affair is to be held in the city auditorium and the first class of the First Baptist church will prepare the banquet.

V. B. Mandeville, president of the chamber, was delegated to attend a meeting of the state park board in Los Angeles February 8. Mandeville presided at the meeting yesterday.

New Building In Brea To Cost $12,000

BREA, Feb. 7.—E. M. Peterson is preparing his lot at 307 South Valencia for the erection of the two-story building which he is shortly to begin there. It is to be an addition to the existing building of the Office National bank at the southwest corner of Birch and Valencia.

As a preliminary move in preparation of the ground, Peterson has just completed the moving of his residence from that location to a lot he owns on South Redwood. The house is to undergo repairs.

The new store building is to be of Class "A" construction and the estimated cost is placed at $12,000.

BREA TO PURCHASE NEW WATER PIPES

BREA, Feb. 7.—The city of Brea is inviting bids for the purchase of 2500 feet of six-inch cast iron pipe and connections to be delivered to city clerk not later than 7:30 o'clock of the evening of February 11.

This pipe is to be used in extending the city's water mains on the south to the city limits, which are just beyond the C. R. Merrifield ranch. At present the six-inch water mains run only to Elm street and residents within the city limits south of Elm have had to depend on a three-inch line, which affords but little pressure and no fire protection. The last fire plug on the south side of town is at the American Legion hall on the corner of Elm and Pomona. Work of laying the six-inch main is expected to begin within a short time.

Americanization Program Planned

ORANGE, Feb. 7.—The Americanization work begun in Orange a few weeks ago is to be furthered by a musical program and a film for the Mexican fathers and mothers of the community, at the intermediate school tomorrow night.

The meeting is sponsored by the Lemon street P. T. A. and is under the supervision of Miss Isabelle Duran, city and county health nurse, and Mrs. Claire Glassburner. Mrs. Glassburner will provide the musical talent to be presented.

Brea Acquires School Property

BREA, Feb. 7.—The Brea school trustees have adopted a resolution offering for sale the south 30 feet of the Brea grammar school site, to be used for street purposes only and developed as a part of East Decadon street. The property will be bought by the city at the minimum price of $1 and held indefinitely as a part of the city street. Plans are for the grading and oiling of the street for the present and later it is the aim of the city to pave East Decadon for the depth of the Brea grammar school grounds.

The addition 30 feet will make of East Decadon a wide street for this distance. As it is a street on which much of the heavy trucking of oil fields to the east is done, the widening eliminates the present danger presented to students and teachers who drive cars and park there.

Scout Troop For Talbert District

TALBERT, Feb. 7.—The Rev. J. J. Woodson has been reviving the interest of the boys of the Talbert community in the Boy Scout troop which he is organizing and now has 18 names on his Scout roll.

The first scout meeting is to be held next Wednesday evening and Wednesday will hereafter be the regular meeting day for the troop.

HIGHER PRICES FOR VALENCIAS IN 1928 SEEN

FULLERTON, Feb. 7.—Although the Valencia orange crop in northern Orange county will be but approximately 65 per cent of normal, the higher prices which will undoubtedly exist will offset the short crop to a great extent, according to Dale R. King, manager of the Northern Orange County Citrus exchange.

The navel crop will be about 85 per cent normal and the lemon crop will reach 100 per cent normal in this locality, King reported.

"The crop shortage is due primarily to the fact that during the past two years the crops have been very good," King stated. "The quality of fruit of the valencias will be as good as last year, and the prices will certainly be better."

Arch Riley Made Fireman At H. B.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 7.—Arch Riley was appointed a member of the volunteer fire department last night at the regular meeting of the company. Riley replaced T. C. Vincent, who moved this week to Escondido. Vincent will engage in business in the southern city.

G. W. Shafer was appointed captain of engine company No. 2, filling an office formerly held by Vincent.

A banquet was enjoyed by firemen last night. The banquet is a regular affair held every other month. R. F. Riley, D. E. Barry and G. W. Shafer were in charge of the affair. Fire practice concluded the evening.

Speaking Class Arranges Program

ORANGE, Feb. 7.—Students of the public speaking class, under the instruction of George A. Stoner, will show their fellow students what progress has been made in learning to entertain at the public, at tomorrow's assembly at 1:30 p. m.

Another assembly is to be held on Thursday, when Cass Arthur Reed, head of the International College, Smyrna, will be the speaker. President Reed is a graduate of Pomona college. He will be in Southern California during February and March.

Toastmaster To Install Tonight

ANAHEIM, Feb. 7.—James Hoffman is to be formally installed as president of the Anaheim Toastmasters' club at the regular weekly dinner meeting in the Elks' club tonight.

Leo J. Fyris is to have charge of the installation ceremonies, Cyril Hannah, retiring president, announced this morning.

Other newly elected officers to be installed at this time are Joe Collins, vice president; Franklin Howatt, secretary, and George F. Howard, treasurer.

ORANGE, Feb. 7.—Mr. and Mrs. Dean Campbell have moved to Orange this week from Santa Ana and will reside at 321 Stewart drive. Mrs. Campbell is the deputy city clerk.

BUSINESS NOW ETHICAL, SAYS H. F. M'CORMICK

LAGUNA BEACH, Feb. 7.—That business today is conducted on a far more ethical basis than in the past, that the standards of honest and fair dealing are growing, and that the business man of today is not the self centered and intolerant individual such as was the business man of a generation ago, were points stressed by Harold F. McCormick, chairman of the Board of directors of the International Harvester company, in an address made before the Laguna Lions club last night.

The speaker related many anecdotes which illustrated the methods in common vogue a generation ago, methods which he said would no longer even be thought of, much less practiced. He reviewed the attitude of the public toward the large concerns at the time the trusts were being formed and the attitude of big business toward the public.

Touching on the relation of capital to labor, McCormick said: "While the industrial barons were becoming very selfish and seeking self gain, there was not much constructive or helpful thought given to labor and so labor had to rise in its own self defense. There upon ensued the fight for the recognition of the union, which to my mind was justifiable and has done a great deal for the working man. The right to strike in mass is natural, but the right to keep someone else from work who wants to is one of the perplexing problems which labor unions have had to do a great deal of thinking about to justify."

"But latterly a new form of so-called union has come into existence and is very generally used at the present time and that is called the industrial council plan, whereby the companies grant the right of the workmen to organize, but insist that the representatives of the workmen shall be elected from their own ranks."

The speaker then went into the methods used to inaugurate the plan, and said that in the eight or nine years that the harvester company had operated it, good results had followed. He told in the same connection of the play times of the encouragement of the company to the efforts of the sports and to refrain from taking such an active part that the accusation of paternalism might follow.

Touching on the management he told of the development of a system in force in his company, finishing this part of his talk with "It is an open question in my mind if management is accepted as a group whether labor leaders should not also be recognized as a group because management is to capital very much what labor leaders are towards labor."

"Recently, companies have found it profitable to go very extensively into encouraging labor and many a time to become partners so that the workers hold stock and participate in benefits and are protected in case of accident."

McCormick said that he was delighted with the south coast district and was glad to have a small part in the development of it.

J. P. Baumgartner, guest of the Lions, spoke of the development of service clubs in Santa Ana and of the higher ethical standards established as a direct result of their influence.

Norman Crosby, friend of McCormick for many years, and editor-in-chief of the South Coast News, spoke briefly. He said, jocularly,

ADDRESS LIONS

New Buena Park Grammar School To Open Monday

BUENA PARK, Feb. 7.—The Lindbergh grammar school, Buena Park's new $32,000 educational institution, probably will be ready for pupils next Monday, it was announced today by Mrs. Maude Parham, principal of the Grand Avenue school.

The school contains four rooms and is of brick construction. It is situated on Stanton road between Commonwealth avenue and Fourth street.

Mesa Newcomer Buys Business

COST MESA, Feb. 7.—Fred C. Fawcett, recent arrival here from Oatman, Colo., has purchased the restaurant and candy store business of Jack Wright. Fawcett has been in Costa Mesa only a short time. The consideration involved was not revealed. Wright did not own the building.

Fawcett will remodel the present building and will add a candy kitchen to the business. Wright has been in business in Costa Mesa for the past six years. He intends to remain here and will open another business in the near future, it is reported.

SCOUTS ADMIT MEMBER

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 7.—George Edwards was admitted as a member of the Newport Beach Boy Scout troop here at the regular meeting of the Scouts. Edwards was the only new member taken in. Ed Davis, local man, recently appointed clubmaster for the Scout troops, took up his duties at the meeting. Local Boy Scouts are preparing for their anniversary party, which is to be held at the grammar school next Friday night.

McCormick now considered the South Coast News the most important company in the world, and that he felt sorry for those who had nothing more important than such corporations as the Standard Oil company.

The musical program of the evening was given by Mrs. Pearl Livsey and Morris Phillips. About 35 Lions and guests attended the meeting.

INCORPORATION OF LIBRARY AT BEACH PLANNED

LAGUNA BEACH, Feb. 7.—Plans for incorporating the library were discussed at a meeting of the members of the Laguna Beach Library Building association yesterday afternoon at the chamber of commerce, when the constitution drawn by Vernon W. Hunt for the association was read.

The library is housed in a small building recently given it by N. E. West and the Yoch estate and placed on a lot which is being purchased under contract. The association expects to build to the small structure now occupied, and in order to take deed to the property and to handle the funds necessary to complete its building program, the association has found it advisable to consider incorporation.

The report of funds being received showed that much must still be collected before it will be safe to attempt to build, though a local architect has drawn plans and a local builder is expected to give figures as to the probable cost.

An increase in the number of books drawn from the library in January of this year over January of last year shows that about 25 per cent more books have been taken by patrons.

La Habra Women To Hear Authors

LA HABRA, Feb. 7.—Louis Dodge, of St. Louis, well known author, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Woman's club Thursday afternoon. J. Breckenridge Ellis, another Missouri writer, will be present and give a talk. Musical numbers will be given by the club quartet.

Orange Club To Hold Plunge Party

ORANGE, Feb. 7.—Members of the Orange club of the Orange union high school are looking forward to a monthly meeting that promises to be out of the ordinary. Under the supervision of their faculty advisor, Verne Shippey, the club will go to Glen Ivy, where they will enjoy a plunge party, Thursday.

BUENA PARK

BUENA PARK, Feb. 7.—Mr. and Mrs. Glen Crilly, of Court street, are busy planning a six-room home to be built at Western and Fifth streets. It will be built by Charles Sanderson. It is reported that Sanderson will build a five room home for Fredric Green and Al Smith, of Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. Tex Sopha gave a house warming Saturday night in their new home on Kingsman avenue. The evening was spent with games.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Ransbottom, of Tenth street, entertained their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Wills, of Long Beach, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Gollans and children, of Whittier, visited Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Berkey Sunday afternoon.

E. T. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Parker and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Parker, all of Los Angeles, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Cole, of East Ninth street, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Spohn, of Walnut street, have moved to Lynwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Rennie celebrated Mr. Rennie's birthday Saturday evening with a theater party in Los Angeles. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Caryl Snyder, of Buena Park, and Miss Ann Fisk and Mr. Calhoun, of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Jaynes, of East Ninth street, visited friends in Long Beach Sunday.

TAKES BANK POSITION
ANAHEIM, Feb. 7.—William H. Bruns, formerly in the bookkeeping department of the First National bank, this city, and later with the Southern Counties bank at El Monte, has accepted a position as teller and bookkeeper in the Anaheim National bank. Bruns is to take the position now held by Mrs. C. B. Goodson, who is leaving the bank this week to assist her husband in his radio business.

Postal Gain Recorded In Fullerton

FULLERTON, Feb. 7.—An increase of 17 per cent was noted in the postal receipts for January, 1928, over January, 1927, according to Jack Horner, local postmaster. The figures as given out in the report were, January, 1928, $4153.25, and January, 1927, $3547.47, an increase of $605.78.

THREE ORDINANCES READ IN TUSTIN

TUSTIN, Feb. 7.—Three city ordinances were read here last night. The ordinances occupied the attention of councilmen during the entire evening.

The three ordinances dealt with the police department, the issuance of warrants and the calling of city elections.

The city council here will continue to meet in the Knights of Pythias building for the time being, it was decided. Some discussion had arisen over changing the meeting place of the body.

The next meeting will be held February 20.

Rites Wednesday For Mrs. Miller

ANAHEIM, Feb. 7.—Funeral services for Mrs. Nellie L. Miller, 65, of Altadena, mother of A. J. Miller, manager of the Olive Fruit company, Anaheim branch, and Earl L. Miller, prominent Anaheim citrus grower, who died late Sunday at the Glendale sanitarium, are to be held from the Backs, Terry and Campbell funeral chapel, this city, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The deceased was the wife of Burton Miller, formerly a prominent citrus grower here, now retired. Mr. and Mrs. Miller lived on a ranch near Anaheim for six years previous to removing to Altadena two years.

Captains Ready For Post Campaign

ORANGE, Feb. 7.—Team captains of the recently planned American Legion membership drive are "rarin' to go," according to H. W. Wallace, post commander. While the campaign does not open officially until February 16, it is felt that much preliminary work and investigation will be done before that date.

The four captains in charge are James Ragan, George Franzen, Thomas Barnett and M. H. Boethum. As there are 250 ex-service men in this community, a large increase on the local roster is expected.

A window card is to be placed in the window of every Legionnaire in business in Orange.

The campaign closes Feb. 24.

Oil Driller Goes To South America

COSTA MESA, Feb. 7.—Roy Wood left yesterday from Wilmington on the Panama Pacific Steamship "Mongolia" for El Centro, Colombia, South America, where he will be employed as a driller for the Tropical Oil company.

Mrs. Wood and small son will follow in about six months.

GIRLS' LEAGUE SELECTS COURT QUEEN, FEB. 9

ORANGE, Feb. 7.—An important election is scheduled at the meeting of the Girls' League Thursday afternoon, according to a statement made today by Miss Avis Middleton, faculty advisor of the league at the Orange union high school. At this time the queen of the Valencia court to be held here May 2 and 3 will be selected by members of the league.

A recent decision of the league makes the right to be elected as queen of this festival a senior privilege. Fifteen girls seniors were selected today as candidates and Thursday one of the number will be given the coveted title. Eight other girls seniors will be made as the queen's attendants.

Queen Valencia's court was held for the first time last year in the plaza, planned by the chamber of commerce under the supervision of V. B. Johnson, secretary of the organization. The success of the presentation was responsible for the decision to make the affair a distinctive annual event for Orange. Last year seats were provided for 5000 spectators and the attendance was estimated at over 11,000.

This year the court will be called "Queen Valencia in Fairyland." A large stage is to be erected in the square at the southwest corner of the plaza, where the entertainment for the queen will be held. A large number of children from the lower grades of the schools will be utilized in the production.

Specially staged dances and gymnastics are to be given by the scholars of the higher grades. The city of Orange has contributed $1000 toward staging the court and the county supervisors have contributed $500.

Brea Rig Builder Hurt In Kern Field

BREA, Feb. 7.—G. W. Bird, of the firm of Bird and Allen, returned Sunday from Bakersfield, near which city they have had a crew busy building rigs for the Chaslor-Candfield Midway Oil company on the Kern river.

A few days before leaving there Bird sustained painful injuries to his right ankle, when that member was caught between two rig timbers. He is now on crutches and under the care of a local physician.

J. L. Allen left Sunday for Bakersfield, where he will superintend the work being done there.

SEAL BEACH

SEAL BEACH, Feb. 7.—Mrs. Mary Schaffer, whose son, the Rev. Father Schaffer, was pastor of St. Ann's church in Seal Beach and later died during his pastorate in Santa Ana, plans to leave her home in Santa Barbara in March to go in company with friends, to her former home in Hungary.

John Thomsen was in Seal Beach this week looking after property interests before leaving for Iowa, where he will visit relatives and attend the wedding of a niece. Mr. Thomsen plans to sail for Germany in April to visit a brother after a separation of 36 years. He will spend six months in the old country.

The Junior Seal Beach Girls Reserve class will visit the Long Beach Y. W. C. A. Saturday afternoon in company with the leading Miss Legett. A hike to the hills north of Seal Beach is a pleasure planned for Monday evening.

Attractive Luncheon Is Compliment to Mrs. Tucker

It is with much regret that friends of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Tucker of 1423 North Spurgeon street, contemplate the latter's departure for their new home in San Jose, and the last few weeks before their going, are being marked by a succession of friendly little parties complimenting Mrs. Tucker. The most recent of these was given Saturday by Mrs. Carl Burns in her attractive Spanish home on Freeman street, and took the form of a bridge luncheon.

Asked to share the friendly affair with Mrs. Burns and Mrs. Tucker were, a sister of each one, Miss Edna Buss of Honolulu, who arrived two weeks ago for an extended visit in the Burns home, and Mrs. Noble, who has been the guest of the Tuckers. Others invited were Mrs. Frank C. Arnin, Mrs. Carey, Mrs. Jack Cunningham, Mrs. Waldo Wehry, Mrs. Gerald A. Oliver, Miss Roberta Daves and Mrs. Richard B. Bird.

Small tables arranged for luncheon, were inviting with their valentine candles, valentine place card, and a menu which offered the season's colors in various dishes, especially the salad and the dessert, the latter featuring strawberry shortcake with mounds of whipped cream.

In the afternoon of bridge, honors went to Mrs. Anlin whose reward was a hand-tooled leather score pad. A silver bridge pencil with elephant weight, consoled Mrs. Noble. The chief event of the afternoon concerned Mrs. Tucker, the honoree, for when prizes were awarded, Mrs. Burns presented her with a delightful after-dinner coffee set, the gift of the assembled friends.

Lively Youths Share Dinner Party

Planning a delightful evening for their young son William, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Proctor of 607 East Pine street, entertained late in the week at a dinner party, at which the guests were seven of his friends.

The table was made attractive with flowers and places were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Proctor, William Proctor, Elmer Carroll, William Beaman, Jack Lindsey, Harvey Shields, of this city, William Silver and William Kirk of Tustin.

In the evening the youths went to the Mabel Rockwell studio where they were joined by a party of young girls chaperoned by Mrs. W. L. Lethy of Tustin, and all enjoyed dancing. In the party were the Misses Dorothy Proctor, Mary King, Jean Ferrey, Katherine Dunham, Emily Marsh, Kathleen Holmes and Marian Lethy.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Princess of Syracuse will hold a called meeting Wednesday evening, 6:30 o'clock, K. P. hall.

United Brethren Aid and Missionary societies will join in an all-day session Thursday at the church. Beginning at 9:30 a. m., the Aid members will devote the morning to work, followed by a covered dish luncheon at noon. The Missionary society will hold its annual thank offering services in the afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock.

The American Association of University Women (Orange county branch) will meet Thursday evening at 7:30 in the lounge of Ebell clubhouse. Mrs. Robert Northcross from the English department of Santa Ana junior college, will talk on some phase of contemporary fiction. Mrs. Northcross is very popular as an instructor and a speaker before clubs and extension groups.

The music in charge of Miss Myrtle Martin, head of the junior college department of music, will include piano numbers by Miss Helen MacCartney, also of the music department; a violin duet by Katherine Kirven and Pauline Thompson; a vocal solo by Hazel Smith; and quartet numbers by Hazel Smith, Jean Nicholson, Katherine Kirven, and Jeanette Fox.

Past Noble Grande of Sycamore Rebekah will meet Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, in I.O.O.F. hall.

W. H. P. T. A. will meet Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The Women's Foreign Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the church. An interesting program is promised, for the society's own missionary, Miss Estelle Daniels, will be present to speak, also Miss Lucy M. Shafer of New York, field secretary.

Quill Pen club members, meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock with Miss Lucy Agar, 112 1/2 North Flower street, are to answer roll call with original sonnets. Original stories will form the evening's program.

Ebell's Second Household Economic section will hold a luncheon tomorrow at 1 o'clock in Ebell clubhouse. Hostesses will be Madeline Elliott Rowland, Robert Tuthill, R. E. Rowland, and Bruce Monroe, and members are asked to introduce some one of the group, bringing some of the group's activities to the luncheon.

STYLES WORN ON THE RIVIERA

A Patou embodiment of Riviera chic—a three-piece suit of combined white and green, the cape collared and cuffed in dyed badger.

By JEAN PATOU
For NEA Service

PARIS, Feb. 2.—Fashion reviewers are usually much interested in the clothes women wear on the Riviera.

For a great majority of women, they seem to be an indication of what the general trend of future fashions is likely to be. Are they right in this assumption? Not wholly, in my opinion.

New Atmosphere Essential
As a matter of fact this deduction is a little too "simple" for me, but it is sufficiently logical in the sense that the couturiers are able to see in the models which women favor the ideas which have appealed to them in creations commended to their appreciation a few months previously. It is rather like the solution of a problem by which a couturier may judge whether his solution was correct.

The thing which strikes most the imagination of a couturier, however, is never a certain "fantasia" or a certain coloring. A man seeking novelty should never notice any detail in a model which he already knows; the only thing which he is allowed to see in this is an evolution of current fashions. And whether this manifests itself on the Riviera, in Paris or elsewhere is of no consequence.

Styles Mirror Past Approval
The couturier has to feel what he can offer women in the way of new fashions in watching them live and it is in the evolution of women's way of living that every phase of fashions can be traced. The essential factor, for a couturier, is to create for himself a new atmosphere, an artificial "ambiance," so to speak.

That is why he goes to the South in winter time in order to feel the influence of the sun to create his summer models.

Famous Baritone Makes Enjoyable Visit at Bishop Ranch

Holmes Bishop and his lovely wife, Marie Bishop, had an interesting guest at their ranch home within the past few days, in the person of Herbert Gould of New York City, the famous eastern bass-baritone, who was in the Southland to sing "Elijah" at the Philharmonic auditorium, Los Angeles.

A few close friends of the hosts, were asked to share an evening of music during which the distinguished guest sang a number of the beautiful Elijah solos, with lone Tunison Peck as his accompanist.

In returning to New York, Mr. Gould will stop at Topeka, Kas., where he will give four presentations of a dramatized version of "Elijah," and again in Chicago where he will sing the B Minor Mass by Bach for the Chicago Apollo club. Once more in his home city of New York, he will do quite a bit of oratorio work before going to Cincinnati to fill a summer's engagement with the Cincinnati Opera company. Mr. Gould is under the management of Arthur Judson.

FLOWERED MATERIALS
Flowers are blooming all over spring materials. But the 1932 fashions are more apt to be meditative interpretations rather than the reproductions of last season.

SHALLOPED SHIRT
The shirt with a shallow collar and a deep pocket is the latest in men's wear. It is a combination of the shirt and the vest of the coal miner.

Bridge Club Members Entertain Husbands At Card Party

Leap Year, shorn of all its terrors for a little group of the city's younger business men, was instead invested with a pronounced charm for them, when they were complimented at a Leap Year bridge party planned by their wives, all of whom form an informal club which meets for a bi-weekly afternoon of bridge.

In their evening party, the young matrons entertained their husbands at the Rose Arbor, where the services of games yielded victory to Mrs. Ella Wagner and Donald Hillyard. Scores were added for consolation prize, which went to Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Powers, and which was a little imported stem filled with mustard. Mrs. Wagner's reward was a jam-jar in Czechoslovakian pottery, while a box of chocolate cigars and cigarettes fell to the lot of Mr. Hillyard.

An appetizing supper brought the merry evening to a close. Enjoying the various features were Messrs. and Mesdames Claude Sleeper, William Stroehlein, Donald Hillyard, Warren Hillyard, Carl Edgar, Gene Robinson, Calvin Powers, Ella Wagner, Leon Dickey, Leo Schmiedberg and Miss Mildred Cook.

The bridge club members are anticipating their regular card party Thursday afternoon, when they will be entertained by Mrs. Donald Hillyard in her home at 1014 West Myrtle street.

Long Beach Party Dines and Dances Here

Among the parties incidental to last week's inaugural ball of Santa Ana Exchange club, was an especially enjoyable one made up of Long Beach Exchangeites and their wives.

The group motored over to St. Ann's Inn and enjoyed a dinner party preliminary to dancing at the Orange Woman's clubhouse. In the party were Messrs. and Mesdames Edgar Davis, M. R. Wallace, M. Walker, L. A. Collins, Thomas Winstead, Ralph Taylor, Fred Clewett, Walter Fure, Jerry Martin, Basil Tranger, J. J. Barton and L. Roy Comer.

Guest from Toronto Is Incentive for Pretty Party

Making her house guest, Mrs. Anna Allen of Toronto, Can., her incentive, Mrs. Jesse Albright of 718 South Sycamore street, added a charmingly appointed party to the list of enjoyable events of the past week.

While needlework and chat were the programmed features of the afternoon, several impromptu features added greatly to the pleasure of the guests. Mrs. William Venn of Orange, a cousin of the hostess, consented to read some of her clever original verse, and Mrs. Albright herself responded to the plea of her guests by singing a group of songs. Miss Justina Palmer played some very lovely piano solos, and Mrs. May Hodgins gave an impromptu talk that was quite entertaining.

At the tea hour, the hostess served a two-course menu which offered a variety of sandwiches, with tea, fruit candies, ice cream and similar dainties.

Mrs. Albright's honor guest, Mrs. Allen, was her maid of honor just 32 years ago last June, at her wedding to Mr. Albright, so their reunion when Mrs. Allen came to California to spend a year, has been a particularly happy one. Another welcome guest was Mrs. Hodgins of Los Angeles, who had been a close friend of Mrs. Allen in her girlhood days in Canada.

Others to enjoy Mrs. Albright's hospitality and meet her house guest, were Mesdames Henry Guthrie, Allie Pitts, Edward M. Mills, A. H. Theel, Jesse Raugh, Maude Miller, Martha Westlake, W. E. Chandler, Theo. Winkler, William Venn, Ethel Briggall of Orange, Warren Freeman, W. A. Taylor, Cole, Horton Palmer, J. H. Tompkins, Will O'Brien, J. C. Gilman, John Estes, Jr., F. W. Wieseman, George Warner, A. J. Leiby, and the Misses Lily Farley, Minnie McKay of Orange, Myra Westlake, Boyes and Justina Palmer.

Miscellaneous Shower Honors Bride-elect

The home of Mrs. C. M. Phillips, 1726 Valencia street, was the scene of a happy gathering Saturday afternoon, when Mrs. Phillips' granddaughter, Miss Virginia Anderson, entertained as a compliment to Miss Merle Parr of Smelter.

The party was a miscellaneous shower in honor of the approaching marriage of Miss Parr and Clifford Rhea of Barber City. The honoree is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parr of Smelter.

Attractive embroidery was done by the guests, on tea towels and kitchen holders, designed for the future use of the bride-elect. Address of entertainment was given by a piano solo, Schubert's "Serenade," played by Miss Vivian Weld. The honor guest also contributed several songs to the pleasant afternoon. The serving of cherry-nut ice cream and angel food cake provided a pleasant interval, and the presentation of many lovely gifts to Miss Parr, brought the afternoon to a close.

Those present were the honoree, Miss Parr, Mrs. Charles Parr, Mrs. Olive Rhea, Mrs. Fred Dodge, Los Angeles; Mrs. Thompson and Mildred Thompson, Laguna Beach; Miss Helen McCoy, Miss Vivian Weld, Miss Lillian Arnette, Miss Pearl Bredehoeve, Miss RueCliff Whitcomb, Miss Ruth Goble, Miss Ella Murdy, Mrs. C. E. Phillips, Mrs. H. B. Anderson and the hostess Miss Virginia Anderson.

WEST COAST WALKER

Russia the Magnificent—gayest court in the world, with the most beautiful women, the most handsome officers—all the glory of the land of the czars before the revolution; this is the background for the poignant romance of Count Vronsky and Anna Karenina, as enacted on the screen by John Gilbert and Greta Garbo in "Love," now playing at the West Coast Walker.

It is a dazzling spectacle—gorgeous uniforms, glittering costumes, great palaces and the revelry of the Russian aristocracy at its height, as a glorious setting for the central love theme—the world-famous romance of Count Tolstoy, known to literature the world over as "Anna Karenina."

In its film version it is a gorgeous piece of entertainment that has with utter fidelity kept the spirit of the novel. Gilbert, as the dashing Count Vronsky, is a figure no less romantic than his role in "The Merry Widow," but with a far greater depth of character that calls forth the utmost of his histrionic skill.

Miss Garbo, as the tragic Anna, sacrificing all for love, and dogged by relentless fate, has a wonderful role.

MURPHY'S COMEDIANS

Can you imagine a sweet, demure, winsome young lady taking the part of a villain? Well that is exactly what Miss Maryeda Green does in the play, "Flying Boots," which is being presented by Murphy's Comedians at Orana this week. Under the guidance of a hypocritical aunt she flaunts false love to win her aunt's viewpoint. This is just one of the many points in the play.

YOST BROADWAY THEATRE
The way the spectators at the opening performance at the Yost Broadway theater behaved was something frightful. "The Cohens and Kellys in Paris," had them howling with joy one moment as its delicious comedy reigned, then when drama and pathos followed the house was perfectly silent, only to be plunged into laughter again when another comedy bit was flashed on the screen.

'Jeremy' Book Good Story By Walpole

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER
Author of "The Magic Map," etc.
For NEA Service.

"Jeremy at Cradle," by Hugh Walpole, is a boy's school story directly told. "Jeremy" is the story of the boy when he was eight. This last was first published about eight years ago, but now it comes forth again in a new edition with pictures by no less an illustrator than Ernest H. Shepard. George H. Doran Co. are the publishers.

I was affectionately wrapped up in "Jeremy" when he first appeared. I have just had the great joy of slowly, leisurely rereading him, and I like him better than ever—which is saying a great deal.

This book is one to be thoroughly enjoyed by boys and girls of Jeremy's age. The school story of course is to be read by their older sisters and brothers. But in this first "Jeremy" book there is so much that adults would enjoy—and much that I hope will do them good.

Bless the Uncle Samuels of the world—the understanding, honest, non-hypocritical Uncle Samuels! Jeremy was being punished. He could not go to his Christmas pantomime. It was Uncle Samuel who saved the situation. That chapter alone is enough to justify the whole book if there weren't so much else in it, too, to praise.

There are some punishments that should never be. Keeping a child home from a circus, a Christmas pantomime, or some equally big event, is too great a punishment for anything they may have done. The bitter, said, remembrance of such a punishment never leaves one throughout life.

It doesn't help. It quietly, slowly, coldly leaves the child with a little chill embitterment. Uncle Samuel understood.

And oh, what a fine ending there is! Jeremy going off to school—amlet, the dog, left behind. Surely this is a book that should be kept alive, always.

THE TINYMITES

STORY & ILLUSTRATIONS BY COOKMAN—PICTURES BY HENCK
NO. 1 & 2, 1927, 1928

(Read The Story, Then Color The Picture)

My, what a fall the Tines took. As they sat up, someone yelled, "Look! Our hound will catch that rabbit, and he'll hurt it, I'm afraid. Come on, let's save it, if we can." Then Scouty jumped, and off he ran. 'Twas lucky for the rabbit that the chase was not delayed.

The other Tines fell in line. Said Clowny, "It will sure be fine if we can catch our dog again, and let the rabbit go. Come on there, bunch, and pick up speed, for that's the very thing we need. We'll be of no assistance, if we travel on so slow." Just then they saw the rabbit hop, and then their dog came to a stop. "Oh, my, I'll bet he's caught it," shouted Coppy, in despair. They very shortly reached the hound. It barked and barked, and ran around. They wondered what 'twas all about. The rabbit was not there.

"Well, goodness me, and bless my soul, the rabbit's run into a hole."

BEAUTIFUL GOLOSHEES

Goloshees, says some "beauty expert" or other, are beautiful, "it worn at the right time." For Pete's sake, when? If there's any object more ugly and grotesque and disgusting and clodhopperish and altogether a blot on the family 'autcheon than the average foot and leg in a goloshe, I wonder what and where it is?

BREAKFAST—Oranges, cereal, cream, creamed eggs on toast, extra toast, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Apples stuffed with sausage, creamed celery, rice pudding, milk, tea.

DINNER—Fresh codfish stuffed and baked, egg sauce, boiled potatoes in parsley salad, parsnip cakes, jellied cabbage salad, rye rolls, everyday steamed pudding, milk, coffee.

Egg Sauce
Four tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 1/4 cups of water, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, 1/8 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon paprika, 2 egg yolks.

Melt butter and stir in flour. Cook until mixture bubbles. Slowly add water, stirring constantly. Season with salt and paprika, and bring to the boiling point. Add lemon juice and bring again to the boiling point. Remove from fire and stir in yolks slightly beaten. Serve at once. Or keep hot over hot water but do not let boil.

Use the whites of the eggs for a cake or fruit whip.
